The National Association for Student Research (OTDT), the Section Committee for Military Science and Law Enforcement of the OTDT and the organizing Széchenyi István University Deák Ferenc Faculty of Law and Political Sciences, and Faculty of Informatics and Electrical Engineering, hereby announce the 38th National Students Research Conference under the conditions of the following call.

The conditions for participation and application in the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section of the 38th OTDK are set out in the 38th OTDK General Call and in the present section call of the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section Committee.

2. Eligibility Criteria

2.1 Who is eligible to participate

For the 38th OTDK, students are eligible who at the time of the first round of the qualifying science/art field, faculty or institutional student research conference (hereinafter referred to as student research conference) following the registration period of the 37th OTDK and preceding the registration period of the 38th OTDK attended

- an integrated master's program;
- a BA/BSc program;
- an MA/MSc program;
- a BProf (Bachelor of Profession) program;
- higher education vocational training, and meet all the requirements of the 38th OTDK General Call and the Call of the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section (details can be found in Supplement 2 of the 38th OTDK General Call).

Study circles from cross-border universities and colleges can participate in the 38th OTDK under the same professional conditions as those in Hungary. Details are available in the General Call of the 38th OTDK.

The conference is also open to secondary school students in Hungary and across borders who present their research results at conferences of higher education institutions or national high school science student conferences (see Supplement 4 of the 37th OTDK General Call) and are nominated for the OTDK. The presentations of high school students will be classified in the section corresponding to their topic, and will be evaluated and awarded according to the internal rules of the host sections, following the same rules as the presentations of university and college students.

A thesis produced in the course of continuous TDK activity during BA and BSc education, can be entered to the 38th OTDK, if it meets the requirements of the Call and its Supplements and has been presented at a student research conference either during the BA/BSc or the subsequent MA/MSc training and has there been delegated to the OTDK.

The conditions for submitting bachelor's theses, master's theses, and theses written within integrated master's programs are set out in Section 2.1 of Supplement 2 to the General Call of the 38th OTDK.

2.2. Formal requirements for participation and evaluation of TDK papers and presentations

Supplement 1 of the Section Call contains the formatting rules to be followed and the elements of the evaluation, with the following details:

- content and format requirements for TDK papers and abstracts,
- rules for the presentation of TDK papers in foreign languages,
- evaluation criteria and rules for the TDK paper and the presentation.

2.3. Submission of a TDK paper to another section

According to the General Call for the 38th OTDK, a TDK paper may only be submitted once and to a single section at the OTDK. Consequently, a TDK paper that has been submitted to another section cannot be submitted to the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section. If an author submits more than one TDK paper, they must declare during the submission process that there is no substantial or significant overlap between the papers. During the verification of applications, the Section Committee of the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section and the organizing committee examine the differences between multiple TDK papers submitted by the same author; if substantial and significant overlap is found, the author must choose which paper to present, and the remaining submissions will be withdrawn. If the student fails to make the declaration during the application process, all submitted papers will be disqualified. This rule does not prohibit the same author from submitting multiple distinct TDK papers to the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section.

During registration, students must indicate the most appropriate section, as well as any other suitable sections, in which they wish to present their paper.

3.2. Rules for the establishment of the final session assignment

The fundamental rules for the establishment of the final session assignment are included in the General Call of the 38th OTDK. The Military Science and Law Enforcement Section Committee may, based on the number of TDK papers received and their topic, merge some of the planned sessions/topics or create additional ones, so that the TDK paper may be assigned to a different session than the one indicated by the author(s) during registration. The condition for starting an independent section is the submission of at least 6 papers on the given topic, as specified in the General Call, with the requirement that at least 5 of the 6-15 papers assigned to the section be presented at the 38th OTDK. If the number of TDK papers to be presented in a given session is fewer than 5, that session may be merged with another session at the discretion of the Chair of the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section Committee. The organizing institution, with the agreement of the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section Committee, reserves the right to redirect TDK papers with content that does not align with the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section's field of study, thanking the applicants and transferring the paper to the appropriate section of the 38th National Student Research Conference.

The final decision on the sessions, and the classification of the TDK papers will be made by the Military Science and Law Enforcement Section Committee. Students will be informed of this decision via the OTDT online system by March 10, 2027 (Wednesday) at the latest.
